Q&A-Eligibility

Eligibility:

Q1: Am I eligible for renewal review?

Please refer to Name list of Renewal review students on the announcement.

If your student ID is not on the list, you should reapply.

Q2: I'm a current recipient and also a bachelor degree student, do I qualify for renewal review?

No. Bachelor's students must reapply regardless of your current scholarship status, unless you are included on the renewal review list.

Eligibility:

Q3: I want to transfer to other department in the next semester, can I apply for the scholarship?

It depends.

Email at scholarship@my.nthu.edu.tw with subject title
Transfer department-your student ID and discuss with me.

Eligibility:

Q5: I am a student enrolled at spring semester. When should I reapply for the scholarship?

For students enrolled at spring semester, the reapplying/renewal review time starts from the end of December to early January each year.

Q&A-Application Documents

Application Documents

Q1: How to prepare the recommendation letter?

Unlike the previous process, students need to write letters to recommenders themselves and ask them to send the letter to us via scholarship@my.nthu.edu.tw with title: recommendation letter- student ID

Application Documents

Q2: What if my grades are not available by the deadline?

Please kindly write an email to your course instructor asking them to submit your grade in advance.

If your scores are still invalid before the deadline, please upload the current transcript.

Once your score are ready, please email to scholarship@my.nthu.edu.tw with subject: Transcript update-your student ID.

Q&A-Criteria

Criteria

Q1: How do you count the average GPA?

※ Calculation Method for Average GPA:

(The average GPA of the first semester × total credits taken in the first semester + the average GPA of the second semester × total credits taken in the second semester) ÷ total credits taken in both semesters.

Formula:

$$\frac{(\text{GPA of 1st semester} \times \text{Credits taken in 1st semester}) + (\text{GPA of 2nd semester} \times \text{Credits taken in 2nd semester})}{\text{Total credits taken in both semesters}}$$

Credits from failed courses must also be included in the GPA calculation.

Criteria

Q2: How do you count the average T-Score?

※ Calculation Method for Average T Score:

(The average T score of the first semester × total credits taken in the first semester + the average T score of the second semester × total credits taken in the second semester) ÷ total credits taken in both semesters.

Formula:

Credits from failed courses must also be included in the average T score calculation.

※ What is T score:

Directives Governing the Grading of Students' Performance : <https://academic-en.site.nthu.edu.tw/var/file/21/1021/img/3386/536143843.pdf>

It depends on your degree program and the course classification. Please check whether the course is listed under the heading "以下不計學分課程" (Courses Not Counted Toward Credits) on your transcript.

Criteria

Q4: Will my course selection record also be reviewed in addition to my grades, such as course withdrawals?

The scholarship will first undergo a preliminary review by your department. If many students from your department are applying, the department may look at your withdrawal record, and they may also raise the scholarship standards in order to pick out the best students.

Criteria

Q4: Will the scholarship review criteria change next year?

The scholarship criteria may change, so please refer to the latest scholarship announcement each year.
